Celebrate the Power of Story
The Santa Fe International Literary Festival
May 17–19, 2024

October 2023, Santa Fe, NM—The 2024 annual Santa Fe International Literary Festival will take place May 17–19, connecting world-renowned authors, thinkers, and passionate readers coming together to explore intersecting issues in politics, race, immigration, the environment, sustainability, and more—as well as celebrating timely and timeless storytelling.

With more than thirty events, SFILF takes place downtown at the Santa Fe Community Convention Center. The Festival kicks off Friday evening, May 17, followed by two days of programming, including large and small lectures and conversations as well as walking tours. A community event calendar will feature other literary happenings around town in the days before and after the Festival, including free author signings and readings and full- and half-day excursions with acclaimed authors.

SFILF’s fiscal sponsor is the 501(c)(3) national arts service organization Fractured Atlas. SFILF’s founding sponsor is the Gale Family Foundation. Our founding partners include Santa Fe Tourism, the Santa Fe New Mexican, and the Authors Guild.

Tickets will go on sale in January 2024. For more information and to sign up for news updates, go to www.SFInternationalLitFest.org. To arrange for interviews and photographs, please contact Clare Hertel at 505-670-3090 or Clare@ClareHertelCommunications.com.
